2. Preface

2.1. Confidentiality, Copyright, and Disclaimer

The following three paragraphs should be used in all client-facing documents... This is a Customer-facing document between Red Hat, Inc. and CLIENTCOMPANY ("Client"). Copyright © 2015-10-27 Red Hat, Inc. All Rights Reserved. No part of the work covered by the copyright herein may be reproduced or used in any form or by any means – graphic, electronic, or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, taping, or information storage and retrieval systems – without permission in writing from Red Hat except as is required to share this information as provided with the aforementioned confidential parties. This document is not a quote and does not include any binding commitments by Red Hat. WARNING: The following paragraph should ONLY be used in client-facing documents delivered prior to or during the actual engagement. This generally means positioning documents, responses to RFIs, preparatory documents, client surveys, responses to change requests, etc. If you include it, be sure to un-highlight it. If acceptable, a formal quote can be issued upon request, which will include the scope of work, cost, and any customer requirements as necessary.

2.2. About This Document

Describe the purpose of the document similar to the following: This template is provided for the creation of style-guide-compliant, Customer-facing documents. Generally this template would be used primarily for the creation of client-facing documents (e.g. Proposals, Scoping Guides, Engagement Reports, etc.) This document template is visually distinct from both the Red Hat branded public document standards and from Red Hat internal documents.

2.3. Audience

Indicate the intended audience for the document similar to the following: This document is provided for use by internal and/or Enterprise Solutions licensed parties involved in the creation of Customer-facing Enterprise Solutions documents.

2.4. Additional Background and Related Documents

Provide related information to help frame the document and its purpose in relation to any larger works or related documents. For example: Numerous conventions are used within Red Hat documentation to facilitate the use and creation of documents as well as to consistently portray similar concepts or information. This document carries the style definitions set forth in the document: RH Documentation Style Guide.

2.5. Terminology

Provide a glossary for terminology that may not be common knowledge with the intended audience. Define terms and expand then define acronyms. If the terminology table exceeds a full page in length, it should probably be moved to an Appendix with a reference to the appendix in this section in place of the table.
